

The Intermingled Eucharist

by Rick McKinney, August 2018

It is said that when the elements of the Eucharist are consecrated angelic hosts surround the altar in adoration, and why not for as in the Incarnation –

That which is heavenly intermingles with that which is earthly;

That which is tangible intermingles with that which is intangible;

That which is invisible intermingles with that which is visible;

That which is natural intermingles with that which is supernatural;

That which is immortal intermingles with that which is mortal;

That which is human in origin intermingles with that which is divine;

That which is incorruptible intermingles with that which is corruptible;

That which is limited intermingles with that which is unlimited;

That which is unchangeable intermingles with that which is changeable;

That which is present intermingles with that which is omnipresent;

That which is omnipotent intermingles with that which is weak;

That which is within time intermingles with that which is timeless; and

That which is among the least intermingles with that which is greatest of all.
