

For the One Who is Forgiven Much, Loves Much

By Rick McKinney © 2019, revised in 2020

Forgiven are ten brothers who sell their youngest brother as a slave and lie to their father about it.
For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is an anointed king who sends one of his officers to be killed so he can have that man's wife.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a cheating tax collector who becomes the welcoming host to the amazing healer of Galilee.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a sinful woman who sheds her tears on the feet of Jesus and dries them with her hair.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a paralytic man on a mat who from a roof was let down in front of Jesus by his friends.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a prodigal son who returns to his father's arms after squandering half the family fortune.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a woman caught in adultery, ready to be stoned, but somehow is not condemned.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a self-confident fisherman, who out of fear, denies he knows his best friend and Lord.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is the woman called Magdalene, who freed from seven demons, weeps by an empty tomb.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is a young, educated man from Tarsus, known as a zealous persecutor of all believers in Jesus.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.

Forgiven is each fallen person who has lost his way and yet remarkably comes to the foot of the cross.

For the one who has been forgiven much, loves much.