

GIVE ME ALL YOU HAVE AND ARE

by Rick McKinney, Lent 2019

They say that Lent is a time of giving and especially a time of giving up things, but the truth is that God desires for us to offer Him what truly is His already;
all that we have and all that we are.

Give me all your prayers. Give me all your cares.
Give me all your psalms and alms.
Give me all your fasts. Give me all your masks.
Give me all you have and are.

Give me all your thoughts. Give me all you've bought.
Give me all your looks and hooks.
Give me all your words. Give me all your hurts.
Give me all you have and are.

Give me all your time. Give me all your rhymes.
Give me all your bills and skills.
Give me all your tears. Give me all your fears.
Give me all you have and are.

Give me all your things. Give me all your stings.
Give me all your dust and rust.
Give me all your pains. Give me all your gains.
Give me all you have and are.

Give me all your praise. Give me all you've raised.
Give me all your moods and wounds.
Give me all your songs. Give me all your wrongs.
Give me all you have and are.
Give me all you have and are.
Give me all you have and are.
